2. In the meantime we are proceeding with a "worst case" plan. Pre-Briefs for the 4 June briefing are set for next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday with a final one set for Tuesday, 3 June, after your return. (Your schedule on this coming Tuesday was pretty hectic and having the first Pre-Brief on Wednesday will allow for a revision based on your review of the material this weekend.) []

3. Attached are three folders for your review:

- [] This contains an alternative way to look at the problem in terms of a briefing. You already have the material pulled together by NIO/WE--as presently structured it is more tutorial and less briefing.
- [] This contains a paper responding to a question you asked during the Pre-Briefs for the [] briefing.
- [] Overview: [] has pulled together a good basis for a briefing, plus provided useful background reading.
